THOMAS, William. A | Speech | Of | VVilliam Thomas, Esquire. | Ianuary, 1641. | Concerning the right of Bishops sitting and voting in

Par- | liament: wherein hee humbly delivereth his opinion, that their | sitting and voting there, is not onely inconvenient, and un- | lawfull, but that it is not necessary for the making up of | free and full Parliaments; nay, that they have no | right thereto, for such reasons as | he declareth. | Parliaments and Statutes therein made being of force, and | no way nulls, notwithstanding their absence, whether volun- | tary or inforced; and that they have not right to their | temporalties, whereby they challenge their | right to sit and vote in the House of | Lords, Lay Peeres: | And therefore under correction he doth thinke that the se- | verall Petitions of the City of London and others, as unto | that, were fairly and justly offered: | And as they ought of due right to be admitted and recei- | ved, so to be speedily debated, and voted, as he | humbly conceiveth. |

WALKER, George. The Doctrine | Of The Holy | VVeekly Sabbath: | VVherein is discovered the true ground, and | the time of the first Institution; the nature of the Law | binding man to keepe and sanctifie it, and the necessity as of | the observation of it on the seventh and last day of the weeke | in the time of the Old Testament; so of the remooving | of it to the first day novv under the Gospell. | Also | Besides the speciall duties necessarily required for the due Sancti- | fication thereof, these two profitable points are proved by de- | monstrations out of Gods Word. | First, That the Lord Christ God and Man, is the Lord of the Sabbath, on | whom the Sabbath was first founded, and by whom it was changed from | the last to the first day of the week; and is on that day unchangeably to be | kept by all true Christians, untill they come to the eternall rest in Hea- | ven, after the generall resurrection. | Secondly, That the faithfull under the Gospell are as necessarily bound to | keep the weekly Sabbath of the Lord day, by vertue of the fourth Com- | mandement, as the Fathers under the Law were bound to keepe the se- | venth day. | Delivered in divers Sermons by George Walker B. REVEREND | Mr. Brightmans Iudgement or Pro- | phesies what shall befall Germany, Scotland, Hol- | land, and the Churches adhering to them. | Likewise what shall befall England, and | the Hierarchy therein. | Collected out of his Exposition on the Revelations, | Printed above 40 yeares since. Wonderfull to see how | they are fulfilled, and in fulfilling ,fore-seeing and foretel- | ling what our eyes have seen, and may see, both in the | past, present and future State of our times: |

Declaring that the Reformation began in Queen Elizabeths | dayes, is not sufficient for us under greater light. | Finishing the work if we now with-stand as heretofore, we | are to expect God hath a sad controversie with the Land. | This faithfull Watchman or our English Prophet (as he is cal'd) was per- | secuted and banished by the Bishops, and this Commentary condem- | ned by them to the fire; which they could not effect in Queene | Elizabeths raigne, till King James. | Collected for the good of those who want time to peruse, | or coyne to purchase so large a Volume. | Divers materiall things added. |

The LATE | Covenant | Asserted. | 1. That it is in whole and in part agreeable to sacred Scripture, holy, just, and good. | 2. That Oxford-Covenant is abominable, contrary to Law, Right Reason, good Sense; where- | by it appeares, what Keepers the Lords of the world are of the Seales and Soules there. | 3. That the Protestation two yeares agon, and Covenant now, are both one for substance; and | a sweet agreement between all foure, Protestation, Covenant, Oath of Supremacy and | Allegeance. | 4. That the five Observations sent us from Oxford upon our Covenant, are wicked and blas- | phemous; The first cleane contrary to Law; The fourth most contrary to sense; The fifth | crosseth Reason; The second and third blasphemeth the way of all Israel in their warre, | 5. warranted by God Himselfe in two most famous Cases, set down here, which will cleare our | Case as the noon day; Wherein these particulars are observable in passage; That Faith has a | Bottom where Reason has none; That Gods People may fall in a lawfull warre; That they | shall be Remembred in a low estate; That it is as impossible to accommodate a Peace, as it | is to bring the two Poles together, North and South, which stand at an eternall opposi- | tion. | 6. Cleare satisfaction given to all Objections, (I say all, because a Reasonable man shall not | find what more to object) against the Covenant, and taking-up of Armes; The Oath of | Supremacy and Allegeance binds us to it; The Kings Vow and taking the Sacrament upon it, | is no more, but what the Lady Mary, before shee was Queen, had taken, and all the Papists | do take, Rebells and Traitors all to the King and his three Kingdomes. | 7. WOODWARD, Hezekiah. A | Sons Patrimony | And | Daughters Portion, | Payable to them at all times, but best received | in their first times, when they are young, and tender: Laid- | out without expence of money, only in the improving time | and words with them, Contained (in an answera- | blenesse to their Ages) in two Volumes: | In the first, | The Parent is taught his duty, to teach it his | child betimes, To heare, To speak, To doe; when and where | to put him to schoole; after that to a Calling, which must be fitted | to his inclination, as a garment to his back; for the childes | inclination makes the surest indenture to binde him to | his Trade. In all this he may be taught in a way | (if the Parent will apply his minde to under- | stand, and to put the more observation upon it) | as plaine, easie and familiar as the | way hee walkes in. | In the second, | The Childe is taught to know himselfe and | God; To take direction from His mouth, for his safe passage | here through all his Ages, and therein how to answer all his | relations, that when he ceaseth to live here, he may live | for ever with the Lord. | . . . (7 lines) Published in the yeare of hope and expectation, that the private house | and schoole shall be reformed, much out of order now, and quite besides the Rule. |

WOODWARD, Hezekiah. Three | Kingdoms | Made One, | By entring Covenant with one God; wherein we | have these Remarkables, worthy all observation. | I. What it is to Covenant with God. | II. How hardly his People are drawn into it. | III. How The Lord has suffered His Adversaries from time to time to Buffit His | People therein. | IV. The height of this Covenant above former Covenants, and Reasons why? | Clear Demonstrations also to shew. | I. The necessity of this League and Covenant; whereunto there are grave Objections made, | and Answered. | II. The Legality and Equity of this Covenant for the Casting out of Archbishops and | Bishops, with their Curates Service, and all together; And Answer made to all that | can be reasonably objected against their Casting forth. | III. The Exemplarynesse of this Covenanting way; It is according to foot-steps of all | the Godly, as all the truely Noble in the World have gone in before us. | IV. The Seasonablenesse of it, and therein the Power, Wisedome, and Goodnesse of God, | All wonderfully admirable. | V. The Sweetnesse of the Promise touching this matter, The purging out of the Rebels; | and how saluted a farre off: If Rebels continue longer in the Land; if more Rebels come | plundering into the Land, Then there is excellent Reason, why it must be so, and abundance | of Comfort for the Church of God, and no cause of fear. | VI. The force, efficacy, and vertue of Covenanting with God; It never failed the Church; It | never shall fail the Church unto the Worlds end. | VII. One Objection there is, but it is cleared; and Gods Interest in the businesse is so cleared | too, That He must Help His People, That He must. | VIII. We have Reasons and Arguments enough, why He must help; His glory is engaged, | ever He Himself; and so we have concluded. | By E.W. | . . . (5 lines).

INTOLERABLE oppression both in Presbyteriall Go- | vernment, and the Common-wealth: allowed by the | Parliament, & presented to the Army, with these particulars: | 1. A plaine mans answere to the eight Queres, which were | proposed by the House of Commons to the Assembly of Divines, | (April 22, 1646.) because they themselves could never be able to an- | swer them. | 2. The Parliaments great injustice and double-dealing, both | in maintaining those sooth-sayers, contrarie to the practice of the | verie Heathen, (when they perceived such kind of men could not | interpret their dreames, like Daniel) and also in following their | wicked counsells, by setting up a golden Image of humane Reli- | gion, and a painted Altar of pretended Reformation. | 3. If any should go forth against that renowned and victori- | rious Army, it cannot (in any equity) be the sober sort of young- | men nor Apprentices of London, nor yet their parents, friends, nor | Masters, because many thousands of them have spent their blood and | states in the late Warres alreadie; but it must needs be, that blacke | tribe of English Priests, because it is only their turne, they being | too easily, safely, and idly kept all these heavy times, to act mischief | at home. | 4. If the Citie will foolishly try at the dice of warres, their | millions with the Armies shillings, even whether they shall have the | Armies horses, buffe-coats, scarfs and armour, or the Army enjoy | all their treasures, riches, apparell, and other both unspeakable and | unvaluable plunder, once to make them wise and sober, (if not, their | daintie wives and daughters also before their eyes,) yea and endan- | ger the burning of the Citty to ashes, for their hainous sins; let | them even run their courses. |

LILBURN, John. Rash Oaths unwarrantable: And the breaking | of them inexcusable. | Or, A Discourse, shewing that the two Houses of | Parliament had little ground to make those Oaths they have made, or lesse | ground to take, or presse the taking of them, being it is easie to be apprehen- | ded, they never intended to keep them, but onely made them for snares, and | cloaks for knavery, as is clearly evinced by their constant arbitrary and tyranni- | call practices, no justice nor right being to be found amongst them; by meanes | of which they have declaratorily, and visibly lost the very soule and essence of | true Magistracy, (which is, the doing of justice, judgment, equity and right) and are | become a dead carkasse. | In which is also a true and just Declaration of the unspeak- | able evill of the delay of justice, and the extraordinary sufferings of Lievtenant | Colonell John Lilburne, very much occasioned by M. Henry Martins unfriendly | and unjust dealing with him, in not making his Report to the House. All which | with divers other things of very high concernment, are declared in the follow- | ing discourse, being an Epistle written by Lievtenant-Colonell John Lilburne, | Prerogative-prisoner in the Tower of London, to Colonell Henry Marten, a | Member of the House of Commons, and Chaire-man to the Committee for | consideration of the Liberties of the Commons of England. LILBURN, John. Regall Tyrannie discovered: | Or, | A Discourse, shewing that all lawfull (approbational) in- | stituted power by God amongst men, is by common agreement, and mutual con- | sent. Which power (in the hands of whomsoever) ought always to be exercised | for the good, benefit, and welfare of the Trusters, and never ought otherwise to be | administred: Which, whensoever it is, it is justly resistable and revokeable; It be- | ing against the light of Nature and Reason, and the end wherefore God endowed | Man with understanding, for any sort or generation of men to give so much po- | wer into the hands of any man or men whatsoever, as to enable them to destroy | them or to suffer such a kind of power to be exercised over them, by any man or | men, that shal assume it unto himself, either by the sword, or any other kind of way. | In which is also punctually declared, | The Tyrannie of the Kings of England, from the dayes of William the Invader and | Robber, and Tyrant, alias the Conqueror, to this present King Charles, Who is | plainly proved to be worse, and more tyrannicall then any of his Predecessors, and | deserves a more severe punishment from the hands of this present Parliament, then | either of the dethroned Kings, Edw. 2. or Rich. 2. had from former Parliaments; | which they are bound by duty and oath, without equivocation or colusion to in- | flict upon him, He being the greatest Delinquent in the three Kingdoms, and the head | of all the rest. | Out of which is drawn a Discourse, occasioned by the Tyrannie and Injustice in- | flicted by the Lords, upon that stout-faithful-lover of his Country, and constant | Sufferer for the Liberties thereof, Lieut. Col. John Lilburn, now prisoner in the | Tower. | In which these 4. following Positions are punctually handled. | 1. That if it were granted that the Lords were a legall Jurisdiction, and had a judica- | tive power over the Commons; yet the manner of their dealing with Mr. Lilburn, | was, and is illegall and unjust. 2. That the Lords by right are no Judicature at all. | 3. That by Law and Right they are no Law makers. 4. That by Law and Right | it is not in the power of the King, nor in the power of the House of Commons it selfe, | to delegate the legislative power, either to the Lords divided, or conjoyned; no, nor to | any other person or persons whatsoever. | Vnto which is annexed a little touch upon some palbable miscarriages, of some rot- | ten Members of the House of Commons: which House, is the absolute sole law- | making, and law-binding Interest of England. | . . . LILBURN, John. The resolved mans Resolution, to maintain with | the last drop of his heart blood, his civill Liberties and freedomes, granted | unto him by the good, just, and honest declared lawes of England, (his native | Country) and never to sit still, so long as he hath a tongue to speake, or a hand | to write, til he hath either necessitated his Adversaries, the house of Lords, and | their Arbitrary Associates in the house of Commons, either to doe him ju- | stice and right, by delivering him from his causelesse and illegall imprison- | ment, and handing out unto him, legall and ample reparations, for all his un- |

just sufferings, or else send him to Tyburne: of which he is not afraid, and | doubteth not if they doe it, but at, and by his death, to doe them (Sampson like) | more mischiefe, then he did them all his life. | All which is expressed and declared in the following Epistle, written by | Lieut. A Whip for the present House of Lords, | Or | The Levellers Levelled. | In an Epistle writ to Mr. Frost, Secretary to the | Committee of State, that sits at Darby House, in answer to a | lying book said to be his called a declaratio, &c. By L.C.Io. Lilburne, | Prerogative Prisoner in the Tower of London, Feb.27.1647. | Into which is inserted his speech against the House of Lords Legislative and Iudi- | cative power, made at the barre of the House of Commons, on the 19. of Ianuary, | 1647. In which is punctually proved, both by reason, and the Parliaments own | Declarations, that though the present House of Lords, (de facto) exercise a law | making, and a law iudging power, yet (de jure) they have no right to either, be- | ing meer prerogative Usurpers, and that the House of Lords, exercising their | pretended Legislative power, is destructive to the Libertie and Freedomes of | England, it alone having been the chiefe cause of all the late warrs, and blood shed | in England, for which as the Bishops were, they deserve to be puld up by the | Roots. In which is also a lash for L,G. Cromwell and Mr. Masterson, the lying | Shepheard of Shoreditch neere London. |

POPE, Mary. A | Treatise | Of | Magistracy, | Shewing, | The Magistrate hath beene, for | ever is to be the cheife Officer in the | Church, out of the Church, and over | the Church; and that the two | Testaments hold forth. | Soveraignty lieth in Rule and Dominion; Now if Soveraignty lieth in Rule | and Dominion, I desire to ask one question in this Kingdome, who is the So- | varaigne? Subjection lieth in duty, and obedience; Rule is that which makes | a King: Obedience is that which constitutes a Subject. Rule and Domi- | nion, I meane that which exerciseth it selfe in a pious and legitimate Di- | scipline, for the well preservation, and direction of a people; and this is | that which tyeth a King to his Subjects. | Now seeing all the Actors upon the Stage, the Parliament that stood up in the | roome of the King; and Army that have stept in the Tract, have acted their parts | much worse (and that the whole Kingdome can witnesse) then our King did | before He went away; where then are the fit persons, or the fit person to put pro- | salls to our King, or make bounds for Him, seeing they have broken them all | downe themselves? And this I am sure, our King was borne our Naturall | King; and seeing we have good Lawes and righteous Statutes, by which he was | constituted, why may not the same lawfull, warrantable, and legall way be re- | newed againe? And I doubt not if we looke unto God, and rely on his All-suffi- | ciency in his way; that he will make our King to be a King of Praises, as he hath | beene a King of Prayers. |

LILBURN, John. An Impeachment | Of | High Treason | Against | Oliver Cromwel, and his Son in Law Henry Ireton Esquires, late Members of the late | forcibly dissolved House of Commons, presented to publique view; by Lieutenant Co- | lonel Iohn Lilburn close Prisoner in the Tower of London, for his real, true and zea- | lous affections to the Liberties of his native Country. | In which following Discourse or Impeachment, he engageth upon his life, | either upon the principles of Law (by way of indictment, the only and alone legall way of all | tryals in England) or upon the principles of Parliaments ancient proceedings, or | upon the principles of reason (by pretence of which alone, they lately took away the | Kings life) before a legal Magistracy, when there shal be one again in | England (which now in the least there is not) to prove the said | Oliver Cromwel guilty of the highest Treason that ever was acted | in England, and more deserving punishment and death | . . . (14 lines). In which are also some Hints of Cautions to the Lord Fairfax, for | absolutely breaking his solemn Engagement with his souldiers, &c. to take head and to | regain his lost Credit in acting honestly in time to come; in helping to settle the | Peace and Liberties of the Nation, which truly, really, and lastingly can | never be done, but by establishing the principles of the Agreement of the Free | People; that being really the peoples interest, and all the | rest that went before, but particular and selvish. | In which is also the Authors late Proposition sent to Mr. Holland, June 26. 1649. to | justifie and make good at his utmost hazard (upon the principles of Scripture, Law Reason, and the | Parliaments and Armies ancient Declarations) his late actions or writings in any or all his Books. | . . . (6 lines).

LILBURN, John. A Preparative | To An Hue And Cry | After | Sir Arthur Haslerig, | (A late Member of the Forcibly Dissolved House | of Commons, and now the present wicked, bloody, and | tyrannicall Governor of Newcastle upon Tine) | For his severall ways attempting to Murder, and by base plots, conspiracies and false | Witnesse to take away the life of Lieutenant Colonel John Lilbvrn now | Prisoner in the Tower of London: As also for his felonious Robbing the said Lieut. Col. | John Lilbvrn of betwixt 24 and 2500 l. by the meer power of his own | will, without ever fixing any reall or pretended crime upon the said Lieutenant Col. or | so much as affording him any formall proceedings, though upon a paper Petition. | In Which Action Alone, he the said Haslerig hath outstript | the Earl of Strafford, in traiterously subverting the fundamentall Liberties | of England, and (in time of Peace) exercising an arbitrary and tyrannicall Government, | Over

And Above Law, and better and more justly deserves to | die therefore, then ever the Earl of Strafford did (especially, considering | he was one of his Judges, that for such actions condemned him to lose his head as a | Traitor) by which tyrannicall actions the said Haslerig is become a Polecat, a | Fox, and a Wolf, (as a subverter and destroyer of humane society) and may and ought to | be knockt on the head therefore, by the very words of Solicitor St. John's own | doctrine against the said Earl of Strafford. | All which the said Lieutenant Col. John Lilburn hath cleerly and evi- | dently evinced in his following Epistle of the 18 of August 1649, to his Uncle | George Lilburn Esquire Of Sun- | derland, in the County of Durham. | . . . HALL, Edmund. Lingva Testivm: | Wherein | Monarchy | Is Proved, | 1. To be Jure Divino. | 2. To be successive in the Church (except in time of a Nationall desertion) | from Adam untill Christ. | 3. That Monarchy is the absolute true Government under the Gospel. | 4. That immediately after extraordinary Gifts in the Church ceased, God | raised up a Monarch for to defend the Church. | 5. That Christian Monarchs are one of the witnesses spoken of Rev. II. | 6. That England is the place from whence God fetched the first witness of | this kind. | 7. England was the place whither the Witnesses, (viz. godly Magistracy | and Ministry) never drove by Antichrist. | Where is Proved, | First, that there hath been a visible Magistracy, (though in sackcloth), these | 1260 yeares in England. | Secondly, That this Magistracy in all Ages (since Antichrists being visible( | hath witnessed for Christ against Antichrist. | Thirdly, That the late King who was cut off with the Axe, was the lawfull | successor of Gods witnesses, who for these 1260. yeares have been Witnes- | ses in Sackcloth for Christ against Antichrist, whereby t'is evident that he | is the slain Witnesse that finished his Testimony. | Fourthly, That his Son the K. of Scotland who is the Witnesse expected 3. | years and an half after the slaying of (the Witnesses to rise again) is by | an unquestionable title Emperour of Rome, and that Prince expected to | be the ruine of the Antichristian Monarchy of Rome. | Against these things are proved that the time of the calling | of the Jews, the fall of Antichrist, and the ruine of the Beast of the Earth | is at hand. Wherein you have the hard places of Mat.24, and Rev.17 ex- | plained with severall other hard Texts: Together with a descrip- | tion of the last Enemies which slay the Witnesses, where- | by tis evident that England is the place where the | Witnesses are slain, and no place else. |

HALL, Thomas. The Pulpit Guarded | With XVII | Arguments | Proving | The Unlawfulness, Sinfulness and Danger of | suffering Private persons to take upon them Publike | Preaching, and expounding the Scriptures without a Call; | as being contrary to the Word of God, contrary to the practice of all | Reformed Churches, contrary to the Three and twentieth Article of Reli- | gion, contrary to two Ordinances of Parliament, and contrary to | the Judgement of a whole Jury of learned, judicious, | pious Divines, both Forraign and Domestick. | Occasioned by a Dispute at Henly in Arden in | Warwick-shire, Aug. 20. 1650. | Against {Lawrence Williams, a Nailor-Publike-Preacher. | Tho. Palmer, a Baker-Preacher. | Tho. Hinde, a Plough-Wright-Publike-Preacher. | Henry Oakes, a Weaver-Preacher. | Hum. Rogers, (lately) a Bakers boy-Publike-Preacher. | Here you have all their Arguments (never yet compiled in one | Tract) refelled and answered many Texts of Scripture cleared, the Quintessence | and Marrow of most of our Modern Authors (in reference to this Controversie collect- |

ed, with References to such Authors as clear any Doubt more fully; many incident Cases | resolved, the utmost extent of Lay-mens using their Gifts in Eleven Particulars demon- | strated, and above Thirty Objections answered. | In the close are added Six Arguments, to | prove our Ministers free from Antichristianism. | . . . PURNEL, Robert. No Power but of God: | And yet a Power in every Creature. | Or, | A word in season, to all Men not void | of Grace, or deprived of Reason. | wherein is held forth, | That the Almighty God is not wanting to us, in im- | powering of us; but we are wanting to him, in not im- | proving our talent for him. The Almighty gives to | every man some talent or talents, viz. To some Natu- | ral, to others Spiritual talents or gifts: But there is no | man that improves his talent so well as he might, in | point of obedience to him. Which appears, In our | not doing so much good, and refraining so much evil, | as by the power he hath given us we ought and might | have done. And | That the Ordinances, Institutions, & appointments | of Christ held forth in the Gospel, are still in force: | so that to slight them, is to slight our own priviledges; | and to forsake them, is to forsake our own mercies. | The abuse of Gospel-Ordinances by some, doth not | take away the lawful use of them to others. | By Robert Purnel. | . . . COLLINGES, John. A | Cordial | For A | Fainting Soule: | Or | Some Essaies for the satisfaction of doubting | wounded Christians, labouring under severall Burdens; | Especially such as arise in Christians Spirits, | From a mistake of the grounds of Faith: Or from a | misunderstanding of the Nature and Acts of saving Faith. | In which severall doubts, most ordinary to Christians in | the beginning of their Conversion, are resolved; The | Ground of Christians going to Christ cleared; The | Acts of saving Faith are discovered; with the severall | weaknesses with which they may consist. | Being the Sum of fourteen Sermons, delivered in so many | Lectures in the Chappell belonging to Chappel-field-house in Norwich. | With three several Tables annexed; the first containing the Cases | spoken to, directly or collaterally; The second giving the | Reader an account of the Contents of each Sermon;

The | third of the principall things contained in the Tract. | The Second Edition, corrected and enlarged, | By John Collings, Master of Arts, and one of the most | unworthy Ministers of the Gospell in the City of Norwich. | . . . (4 lines).

COLLINGES, John. A | Cordial | For A | Fainting-Soul. | Part III. | Divided into two parts. | In the first is discovered the Nature and danger of Carnal Reaso- | nings, their consistency and inconsistency with true faith, to which is added | sutable application; and in that the Vsual Carnal Arguments of Christians | are answered, and several motives propounded, to perswade Chri- | stians from Reasonings of this nature, together with directions | how to set faith on work in the conquest of them. | In the second part is discovered the Nature of Cavilling, or the | souls sin in refusing comfort, which subject is handled in | the same method as the former. | In both are several useful cases spoken to, for the further satisfaction | of doubting troubled Christians: | Delivered in several Lectures, in the Chappel belonging | to Chappel-field-house in Norwich. | By John Collings Mr. of Arts, and Preacher | of Gods Word in the said City. | . . . COLLINGES, John. Responsoria ad Erratica Pastoris, | Sive, | Vindiciæ Vindiciarum. | Id Est, | The Shepherds Wandrings discovered, | in a Revindication of the great Ordinance of | God: Gospel-Preachers, and Preaching. | By way of Reply and Answer to a late Booke, | called, The Peoples priviledges, and duty guarded against | the Pulpit and Preachers encroachment. And their sober justification | and defence of their free and open exposition of Scriptures. | Published by William Sheppard, Esq. | Wherein Mr Sheppards pretended guard, consisting of ten Propositions | and ten Arguments, is examined, and found to weare nothing but | wooden Swords. And all his Replyes to Mr Tho. Halls Argu- | ments, and Mr Collinges Arguments in his Vindiciæ Ministerii, | brought against Not ordained persons ordinary preaching, are | found but cavils and too light. And the Truth still maintained, That | those that dig in the Lords Vineyard must be sent; in that, Prea- | ching and expounding Scripture publiquely, are proper acts to | Gospel-Officers; not common to all. | Wherein also the great question, How far the Spirit of God (that dwels | in all the Saints) doth or doth not inable them to understand | Scripture, is opened. And in it is plainly discovered by Mr Shep- | pards wrestings and mis-applications of Scripture: that himself hath | not such a spirit of Scripture interpretation as is fitting for them that | publickly open the Scriptures; and in the Preface is shewed how much | the holy Spirit of God is abused in these evill times. | By John Collings, M.A. and Preacher of the Gospel in Norwich. | . . . FIRMIN, Giles. Separation Examined: | Or, A | Treatise | VVherein the grounds for Separation | from the Ministry and Churches of England | are weighed, and found too light. The practise | proved to be not onely unwarrantable, but like- | wise so hurtful to the Churches, that Church- | Reformation cannot with any comfort go forward, | so long as such Separation is Tolerated. | Also an humble request presented to the Congre- | gational Divines, that [since the differences between | them and the Classical-Divines are very small] they | would please to strike in with the Classical-Divines in car- | rying on the worke of the Reformation, before the | Inundation of these corrupt Opinions, | have destroyed both Ordinances | and Religion. | By Gi. Firmin Minister to the Church in Shalford in Essex. | . . . (10 lines).

FULLWOOD, Francis. The | Churches and Ministery | of England, | True Churches and true Ministery. | Cleared, and proved, | In a Sermon preach'd the 4th of May | at Wiviliscombe; before a numerous Congregation | assembled together to hear the opposition, which had | been long threatned to be made that day, by Mr Collier | and others of his party, who, with the greatest | strength the West would afford them, | were present at the Sermon. | Wherein were these Five things undeniably proved: | 1. That a mixture of prophane and scandalous persons with reall Saints, | is not inconsistent with the Church of God, or a true Church. | 2. That then the Churches that are now in England, are Churches of God, | and true Churches. | 3. That then, the Ministry of those Churches, is the Ministry of God, and the | true Ministry. | 4. That then, there is a great and heavy sin lying at the door of all such, as | do presume to preach publikely among us, without a Call, who have true | Churches, and a setled Ministry. | 5. And then, they also must needs be guilty, who forsake true Churches and | a lawfull Ministry, to follow and hear unsent preachers. | By Francis Fullwood Minister of the Gospel | at Staple Fitzpane in the County of Somerset. | Before it there is an Epistle and Preface, shewing the Manner, and a Narrative | [subjoyned] shewing the Substance of the Dispute after the Sermon, (both | which lasted nine hours.) Set forth by the Ministers that were at the Dispute, | and Attested under their Hands. |
